

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Vertical Communications to Exhibit Advanced Unified Communications Solutions at Fusion Communications Technology Expo, March 7 in Irvine, CA

Santa Clara, Calif., February 27, 2014—Vertical Communications®, a leading provider of business communications software and solutions, will demonstrate its powerful business communications technology at the Fusion Communications Technology Expo, on Friday, March 7, from 10:00 a.m. through 2:00 p.m. The expo will be held at Fusion Communications' new office location at 2400 Main Street, Suite 200, in Irvine, California. A Vertical Authorized Partner, Fusion is a significant supplier of telecommunications technologies to businesses throughout Southern California. Sponsored by Vertical, the event showcases Fusion's new larger, centrally located facility.

Included in Vertical's technology demonstrations will be advanced business productivity applications featuring unified communications, mobility and customer management tools. The company will also showcase a number of communications solutions developed for specific industries, including retail, health care and its exclusive Auto Bundle for automotive dealers.

"Vertical is a long-standing Fusion partner, and has been instrumental to our success," said Steve Musé, chief executive officer at Fusion Communications, Inc. "We have long appreciated the value that Vertical's products bring to our customers, and are excited they will be joining us for this special occasion to demonstrate their suite of advanced solutions for our guests at the Technology Expo."

"Vertical is delighted to participate in the Technology Expo, and help Fusion celebrate its move into its spacious new building," said Rick Dell, Vertical's chief operating officer. "We congratulate them on their growth and expansion, and look forward to helping Fusion continue to deliver a wide range of advanced capabilities to businesses in the burgeoning Southern California market."
